Four Card Poker

Objective of the game:

The players will combine their five down cards against the dealers five down cards and one up card in an attempt to make the best four card poker hand possible.

Rules of the game:

1. Two initial bets are available: The Ante and the Aces Up.
2. All players get five cards each and the dealer gets six cards. One of the dealer cards is placed face up, and five face down.
3. Players making the Ante bet must decide to fold or raise.
4. If the player folds he forfeits all bets.
5. If player raises, then he must raise at least the amount of the Ante and at most, twice times the Ante.
6. The player keeps his best four cards and discards one.
7. Following is the ranking of hands from lowest to highest: high card, pair, two pair, straight, flush, three of a kind, straight flush, four of a kind.
8. After all decisions have been made, the dealer will turn over his cards and select the best four out of six.
9. The player's hand shall be compared to the dealer's hand, the higher hand winning.
10. If the dealer's hand is higher, then the player shall lose the Ante and Raise.
11. If the player's hand is higher or equal then the Ante and Raise shall pay one to one.
12. If the player has at least a three of a kind, then he shall also be paid a Bonus, regardless of the value of the dealer's hand.
13. Another bet is available (similar to the Pairplus in Three Card Poker), based only on the player's four card hand, called the Aces Up.

Equipment to be used:

Two standard 52 card decks

A cut card

Method of play:

The game will be started with a bank from the cashiers booth. Players will purchase chips either at the cashiers booth, or from the dealer at the table.

Types of wagers / wager amounts:

The player can make Ante and Aces Up bets of $2 or $4 dollars. In the case of a $2 Ante bet, the player raise the amount of their ante on their raise bet.
